"Golem," i.e., the generic term for missile. There is no evidence of Soviet missiles currently in place in Cuba; nor is there evidence of "platforms" below the surface of Cuban coastal waters. There have been reports of underwater "scars" and other evidence of mineral exploration in the Batabano area. Photographic reconnissance of the area [redacted] (b)(1) (b)(3) indicates that these "scars" are the consequence of geological surveys.
